Hi folks, You are welcome to participate in a public email forum to discuss all topics related to building the Palestinian solidarity movement. -- Ben

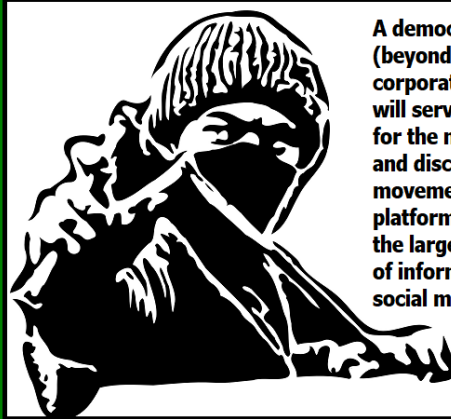

No one is free until Palestine is free

In this time of bitterness and outrage against the rightward shift in global and domestic politics, identification with the oppressed Palestinians has been propelling large numbers of people to turn out for Palestinian solidarity actions all over the world. This is very encouraging, and as is shown by several countries suspending arms sales to Israel, the solidarity movement is beginning to have an effect on events. [. . .] identification with the oppressed Palestinians by many tens of thousands of demonstrators in this country bodes well for the struggles of the people here at home. Indeed, standing up for a free Palestine goes hand-in-hand with standing up to free everyone from exploitation and oppression.

Excerpt above (in italics) is from the March 27 leaflet of the Seattle Workers' Voice. I am not affiliated with that group, but I recognize that their leaflets on the solidarity movement are the best for giving a solid, reliable, and highly concise summary of many key issues. You can read more of their work here:

With a democratic media platform
we will reach millions and win !

A democratic media platform (beyond the control of any corporation or government) will serve as a central index for the news, political debate and discussion the solidarity movement needs. Such a platform will also assist in the large-scale organization of information war on all social media platforms.

The War for Truth

The weapon of transparency and the inevitable victory of the Palestinian Media Army in the war for public opinion

Palestinian Media Army's Mission:

The Palestinian Media Army will be an informal, public and democratic network of volunteers who will use a common public digital library (ie: a growing public database of articles, images, links, comments and replies) to democratically coordinate their actions and help win the war for public opinion --on all social media platforms--and on all important questions related to Palestine or the larger question of the liberation of humanity from the rule of capital.

How will activists create the Palestinian Media Army?

The Palestinian Media Army, unfortunately, does not exist at this time. However it is badly needed. To create it, we must find answers to these 5 questions:

1. What will the Palestinian Media Army look like?
2. How will the Palestinian Media Army function?
3. What digital infrastructure will be needed?
4. How will the Palestinian Media Army be created?
5. What we can do today to help speed this up?

I have created a public email listserv so activists can work collectively (and in a democratic way) to help find the solid and reliable answers we need.

Public debate -- Open to all activists:

I would like to organize a debate on this question:

"What is the necessary digital infrastructure for an informal network of volunteers to be able to democratically coordinate their actions and flood the working class, oppressed, and youth with the truth about Palestine--and everything important?"

A digital platform for information war

If we are serious about bringing to millions the truth about Palestine and the Palestinian people, then we must recognize that our movement needs a reliable and democratic communications platform.

Activists will use this digital platform to exchange important news and opinion, and to co-ordinate their efforts to engage in the war of ideas in this country and the world.

► A public digital library utility will empower millions and billions of Palestinians to combine their efforts in the war for public opinion on all social media platforms.

► Self-organization on such a common platform (ie: a level play field--with equal rights for all) will help bring light and consciousness to the open struggle of political trends and will not only help liberate Palestine--but will help bring to the working class knowledge of its historic mission and destiny. ■
